DEDICATION

Madge Snyder

This Annual Report is dedicated with deep gratitude and affection to Mrs. Richard L. Snyder who devoted most of her lifetime in service for the welfare of others.

Before coming to The Cleveland Society for the Blind, Madge volunteered many years as a braillist for the American Red Cross. She started Taping Services for the Blind at the Society in 1966 with one tape recorder, two volunteers and two dozen requests.

Before 'officially retiring' as a volunteer, Madge gave over 30,000 hours of her time to this program, taping, recording, and coordinating the services of 250 taping volunteers.

In addition to coming to the Sight Center five days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Madge taught 'Learning to Read Braille By Sight' at the John Carroll University for seven years.

The word, 'volunteer' must have been coined to describe Madge Snyder.

President's Message

Theodore G. Thoburn

The year 1979 was the climax to a decade of tremendous achievements for The Cleveland Society for the Blind.

Never before in our 74 year history have we made greater or more measurable strides in our efforts to assist blind persons in our community.

The closing year, 1979, was one of challenge. The main problems which affected the nation -- unchecked inflation and an energy crisis not resolved -- also had great impact on the agency. The result: accelerated costs in all phases of our operation!

In spite of this trend, the Society's programs continued to meet the urgent needs of those with visual handicaps.

Perhaps the most significant figures in the past year's activities were the upswing in the number of new referrals made and in the number of clients receiving direct services. A total of 4,051 blind adults and children received one or more services ranging from processing applications for bus passes to a complete rehabilitation program. Of this number, 683 were new referrals, an increase of 9% over the previous year.

The number of preschool-aged children screened for amblyopia showed a 76% increase over 1978! Of the 16,000 screened, over 400 were referred for treatment.

Another 539 persons were seen in the Low Vision Clinic and over 3,000 clients came to the Aids and Appliances Department for white canes, braille watches, cooking and sewing aids, games and other devices (400 different ones) designed to assist the visually handicapped.

The Rehabilitation Department assisted 170 individuals in the 8 to 24 weeks evaluation and training program at the Sight Center. Another 291 received rehabilitation services in their homes.

The concept of coordinating and/or consolidating Cleveland Rehabilitation Complex Services has been under consideration for several years. It became a reality in October, 1979 when the Industrial Division of the Society merged with the Vocational Guidance and Rehabilitation Services. The merger will permit diversification of the disabilities served while preserving work opportunities for blind persons in general and particularly those already employed.

Three new snack bar locations were opened and 53 persons were placed in competitive employment upon completion of their Job Seeking Skills Training Class at the Sight Center.

Eighty-nine persons were evaluated in the use of sensory aids in the Electronic Aids Center and 64 clients were referred for training on the closed-circuit television reading system for specific employment related use.

A cautious optimism must be exercised in viewing the financial position of the agency. Expenses in 1979 were held very close to those of 1978. Although income increased moderately, the agency still experienced a deficit for the year.

As a result of the increased cost of operations, it was necessary to invade the Society's modest endowment reserve for the fifth straight year. This negative trend has greatly jeopardized the agency's income that is so greatly needed to support current programming.

To accomplish this, we must double our efforts to increase community support and use every means possible to make the general public even more aware of the needs of the blind persons served by the agency.

The Society is fortunate to have the highly effective person-to-person public relations efforts of the more than 3,000 volunteers whose commitment to The Cleveland Society for the Blind is a constant source of assistance.

The agency is equally indebted to those friends whose active support provide the means for continued improvement of the services at CSB.

I would like to thank our truly dedicated Board of Trustees for their positive and constructive help in 1979 and the staff of the agency for their continued inspired endeavors.

Fiscal year 1979 is now a matter of record. The need to assist blind and visually handicapped persons continues.

SERVICES TO GROUPS

Casework

All blind persons must eventually face the problem of adjustment. They must orient themselves physically to their surroundings and learn to cope emotionally with their disability. To this end, the Social Service Department explores with the individuals their special problems and needs; the caseworker helps measure their capabilities and plans a course of action toward self-help and self-development.

In 1979, there were 4051 blind and visually handicapped persons who came to The Cleveland Society for the Blind for some kind of assistance. Of this number, 683 were new referrals, an increase of 9% over the previous year. Their initial contact with the agency was the Casework Department.

Casework is a problem oriented service. Using information from a variety of sources, it is the responsibility of this department to assist the clients in working out solutions to their problems. It is the caseworker who is the 'key' person in helping clients make many significant decisions in their lives.

Drawing upon both internal and external services, the caseworker aids the client in developing a schedule for as much or as little support as is needed to carry out the vital day-to-day activities that daily living requires.

Some clients were referred for the rehabilitation program; others were referred to the Low Vision Clinic. In 1979, 147 clients were referred to other community agencies for service and 294 clients received financial and material assistance from the Society. Many of these were recipients of clothing and furniture, made possible through the resources of the agency.

Camping Services

The number of children and youth attending Highbrook Lodge (the Society's camp for blind and visually handicapped persons) has been steadily increasing during the past several years. In 1979, more youngsters were served than any other previous three summers. A total of 119 children attended camp - 92 blind children and 27 sighted who came with their visually handicapped parents.

The children campers again were helpers and tour guides at the second annual Open House held for volunteers, friends and neighbors in the camp's surrounding area. The campers also wrote and appeared in a special program for the Open House.

A total of 382 men, women and children participated in the camping program last summer enjoying such activities as: swimming and boating, crafts and games, hiking and cookouts, music and literature classes (new in 1979) and special field trips.

AND INDIVIDUALS

Group Work

Three different six-week sessions of Client Activity Days were held during 1979. This is a program of informal education classes sponsored by the CSB. Through these classes, 150 clients participated in such offerings as Yoga, Bowling, Music, Crafts and special field trips. During the fall series of classes, the West Side Client Activity Days (held at the Trinity United Church of Christ) were resumed after several years of absence.

Another highlight of 1979 was the 'Trip Around the World'. This was the Annual Mystery Trip and took place at the Sight Center. The Volunteer Committees hosted the 'countries' which the 130 clients visited after being 'flown' on their imaginary trip by a bona fide crew from the United Airlines. Among the stops around the world were: China, Africa, Hawaii, Germany and Italy.

In June, 41 visually handicapped persons enjoyed the sun and salt air of Atlantic City for a one-week vacation. This was the first Sight Center excursion for 13 of the vacationers.

Ten other special client events highlighted the 1979 calendar year: a Cleveland Indians Game, visits to the Carousel Dinner Theater, Hale Farm, Blossom Music Center, Cedar Point, the Metropolitan Opera (when it visited Cleveland), Mrs. Claus' Closet and the Browns-Cowboys Football game. There was also a Lake Erie boat ride (sponsored for the fourth year by the Lakeside Yacht Club) and entertainment by Willio and Fillio at the Musical Events Final Fun Fling.

In all, 4173 units of service were provided by the Group Work Department in 1979.

Children's Services

1979 saw the formation of a Task Force on services to preschool aged children, bringing together representatives of many community agencies interested in serving this particular population. The implementation of the planned new Children's Services had to be delayed to 1980 due to lack of funds; however, the effort did lead to the identification of at least 20 new children who were in the preschool age group, 5 and under who, together with their parents could benefit from such an intensive infant and preschool program.

The parents' advising group was re-activated during the year and the teen club was reorganized. This one got off to a rousing start with a Christmas party and dance.

The Ohio Bell Pioneers, volunteers, hosted Saturday morning bowling classes for children and teen-agers at the Sight Center Bowling Lanes (located in the Rehabilitation Training Residence).

Other activities included a trip and personally conducted tour of a Navy transport ship; a 'Man-to-Man' outing to wrestling matches at Cleveland State University; a trip to Ringling Brothers Circus; the annual Christmas party, planned by members of Delta Gamma Alumni (east) and a Christmas shopping tour at The Twigbee Shop in Higbee's.

Prevention Of Blindness

There was an increase in the number of children screened by volunteers trained and supervised by Prevention of Blindness Services in 1979. Over 16,000 children played the 'E' game to help detect amblyopia and other eye problems at an early age when treatment is most effective.

Senior Citizens also were served.

Prevention of Blindness participated in Senior Day '79 at Public Hall in May where more than 14,000 older folk from all over the area took part in this day-long information and screening program. Fifty-five participants in the Jewish Community Center's Noon Nutrition Program received complete eye examinations and follow-up care in a small ECHO (Eyes Growing Older) program jointly offered by the Jewish Community Center, Mt. Sinai Hospital and the Sight Center.

A new information booklet, 'Diabetes and the Eye' was printed in cooperation with the Diabetes Association of Greater Cleveland. The department also participated in the Diabetes Association's spring seminar for health professionals.

Low Vision Clinic

In 1979, 539 clients were evaluated for low vision needs and use of optical aids in the Low Vision Clinic. Other clients returned to the Clinic to be assisted in considering the acquisition of additional aids to do new tasks. Finally, many persons were referred for evaluation of the use of optical aids in the work setting.

Clients are seen by an optometric or ophthalmological consultant for the evaluation and prescription of optical aids. Specially trained staff offers support and experience in the use of aids received.

Many of the clients seen in the Low Vision Clinic have recently lost most of their sight and have never received services from the Sight Center before. These visually handicapped individuals are encouraged to discuss their situation with a case worker. This gives people the opportunity to learn about the other services of the agency which may assist them in adjusting to their loss of sight.

COMMUNICATIVE SERVICES

Many educational and recreational needs of clients are fulfilled through the various communicative services of the Society. The reading of newspapers each day reaches several hundred listeners via the Cleveland Radio Reading Service. . . an infinite variety of classic and contemporary literature as well as current magazines are played on 3,300 Talking Book machines currently on loan through CSB . . . job-related materials and textbooks for students are brailled and/or recorded by nearly 350 volunteers in both the Braille and Taping Services.

- In the past year, 78 braillists and large print typists gave approximately 53,500 volunteer hours transcribing requests from across the country, as well as from Canada, South America and Nigeria. Requests for service included braille transcribing, thermoformed copying of braille and preparing material in large print.

Requests for these services originated from schools, colleges, libraries and individuals and included job-related materials completed in computer braille, band music for a junior high school, menus for several area restaurants, bowling tournament programs and large print workbooks for young students.

The year ended with the transcribing of a record number of 76,100 braille pages. . . 41,700 thermoformed pages . . . 2,800 large print pages and 923 volumes that were bound!

- In the past year, 450 Talking Book machines were placed for new users of this service, and over 500 well-used Talking Book machines were repaired and re-conditioned by volunteers, all members of the Ohio Bell Pioneers.
- In spite of the necessity to greatly reduce operating costs during the past year, the Radio Reading Service maintained quality and professionalism in its broadcast programming for its approximately 1,000 listeners. The curtailed schedule of 48 hours of weekly programming still allowed time for volunteers to read the Plain Dealer, the Cleveland Press, Call and Post, Sun Newspapers and selected readings from other papers and periodicals as well as 'Talk Shows' and other specially planned programs.
- In Taping Services two trends became apparent during the past year: (1) Requests for cassette recordings continued to increase while those for open reel recordings declined and (2) There were many more requests for recordings from students with perceptual disabilities.

Requests for recorded materials were received from 29 new schools and school districts in 1979 and 1,181 recordings were made, duplicated and/or ordered from other available resources to help fulfill these requests.

The 'Tapeworm', a newsletter for volunteers, was prepared and mailed several times during the year. In December, 'Rewind Review', with news and information for clients served by the Taping Services, made its debut.

The skill and dedication of all volunteers for the four services -- the transcribers, typists, Ohio Bell Pioneers, readers and tapers are truly appreciated. The volunteers are the reason why these services rate so highly across the country.

REHABILITATIVE SERVICES

Rehabilitation

The rehabilitation program, through evaluation, skill training and counselling, provides an opportunity for visually impaired persons to adjust to their sight loss and establish themselves in the mainstream of community life. Skill training involves communications, mobility and self-care skills both at the Sight Center and in the individuals' homes. At the Sight Center a strong work evaluation and counselling component is added to assist people of working age entering the labor market.

In the past year, 170 persons came to the Sight Center for evaluation and intensive training programs. Another 291 men and women had rehabilitation teaching in their homes. One of these persons, a partially sighted client, discovered on a mobility lesson that she could use a telescopic aid to read a clock across the room. This was the first time in two years that she could read anything at any distance.

With the motivation provided by this discovery, the client was able to pursue the use of optical aids and the closed-circuit television reader. Before entering the rehabilitation program, this person believed she would never be able to perform any type of close work again. She is now successfully employed as a secretary with typing, filing and bookkeeping duties.

Fencing Classes were introduced into the Physical Fitness program in 1979

One of the 89 clients who were evaluated in the Electronic Aids Center

Job Seeking Skills Training

Electronic Aids Center

The Electronic Aids Center evaluated 89 persons in the use of sensory aids in 1979; 64 clients were referred for evaluation and training on the closed-circuit television reading system for specific job uses.

Another service of the Electronic Aids Center is providing loaner equipment to meet immediate employment needs of blind persons. Last year, 25 clients borrowed Optacons, Talking Calculators and Magnifiers. This loaned equipment has been most beneficial to clerical workers, computer programmers, social service and customer service representatives, food service managers, administrators and others.

Deaf—Blind Services

An unfortunate note of 1979 was the suspension of the position of Coordinator of Services for the Deaf/Blind. This became necessary when the grant from the Helen Keller National Center expired and there were not ample financial resources to meet the need.

This program enables the deaf/blind and also those in the community who have contact with persons who have this dual handicap, to benefit more fully from rehabilitation, case work and recreational services.

During 1979, the Job Seeking Skills Training Program made 262 employer contacts, which resulted in a variety of placements. Among them:

- * Computer Programmers with Cleveland Twist Drill and the U. S. Defense Department
- * Plating Racker and a Shipping and Receiving Person with The Advance Plating Company
- * Coding Clerk - U. S. Navy Department of Finance
- * Machine Operator - Cleveland Pneumatic Tool Company
- * Warehouseman - Fastener Service Company
- * Grinder - Ferry Cap and Screw Company
- * Dark room Technician - Metro General Hospital
- * Chemical Engineer - Union Carbide Research Center
- * Telephone Operator - General Telephone of Medina

Other than the automotive industry, which has slowed significantly in Cleveland, the competitive labor market has been good for blind and visually handicapped persons.

The program is succeeding in creating tax payers rather than tax recipients.

Volunteer Services

Virtually every program at the Sight Center has volunteers to back up staff in their work with clients. In 1979, one volunteer recorded over 1,100 miles driving blind clients on errands! . . . a Sister came to the Sight Center to teach Yoga classes . . . one woman involved her entire family (three generations) in the 'Mystery Trip Around the World'. This experience resulted in her husband re-evaluating the positions in his company in terms of possible employment of visually handicapped workers . . . a businessman helped develop and market 2,300 Thanksgiving decorations in the shape of turkey heads. These were made by blind persons in the Crafts-for-Sale program . . . another gentleman volunteered over 350 hours in Activities-of-Daily-Living, assisting male clients in this very important phase of the over-all rehabilitation program . . . a former volunteer moved back to Cleveland and became the editor of SCAN . . . and still another made contacts and arrangements for members of the Cleveland Browns to record radio and television spots for the Society.

These are only a few examples of how the Sight Center's nearly 3,000 volunteers gave their time and talents. Others are detailed throughout the report.

Public Education And Information

Providing public education about blindness, blind persons and the services which assist blind and visually handicapped individuals is considered a very important phase of The Cleveland Society for the Blind.

To accomplish this, CSB has an active public education and information program. Volunteers and staff members provide programs for schools, churches, civic groups and other organizations throughout greater Cleveland. Tours are scheduled at the Sight Center (158 tours for 4082 persons in 1979).

New brochures are developed and printed each year while others are constantly being updated and revised. The Society has more than 50 brochures and an extensive film library covering such subjects as: Braille, Facts about Blindness, Glaucoma, Cataracts, What to do When You Meet a Blind Person, Rehabilitation, Dog Guides, Radio Reading, Talking Book and Taping Services, etc. All publications and the loan of films are free of charge.

In 1979, four new slide shows were produced: 'This is The Cleveland Society for the Blind', a ten minute over-all view of the agency; 'Give us 10 Minutes of Your Time', a look at the Rehabilitation Department and its Residence Training Center; 'Training for Food Service Employment' and 'The Story of the Cleveland Eye Bank'.

Members of The Cleveland Browns were 'stars' of new television and radio spots for the agency and a special promotion, involving a new brochure, posters, radio and TV spots was mounted for the Aids and Appliances Department.

Seven students from The Cleveland Institute of Art assisted in the design and production of several brochures, posters and ads for the Society.

The goal of Public Education and Information is twofold: (1) To help in making the public more aware of blindness and blind persons; (2) To assist those who can benefit from the numerous programs the agency provides.

The Cleveland Eye Bank

The Cleveland Eye Bank enjoyed its best year to date as 163 persons had cornea transplants to aid in the restoration of their sight! The Eye Bank laboratories were relocated and updated and a nurse for the laboratory was added to the staff, thanks to a three year 'incentive grant' by the Cleveland Foundation. The Eye Bank served 14 surgeons and their patients, working in 12 area hospitals from Lake County East to Parma Community on the west side.

In spite of this good record and a continued growth of activity, the waiting list for corneal transplantations constantly averages 50 persons! This is most unfortunate for whether the person is young or old, waiting is difficult.

Our goal for the coming year must be to stimulate greater awareness among professional medical people and the general public of the need for eyes for transplantation. Giving the gift of sight is as simple as filling out a donor pledge card today!

BUSINESS ENTERPRISES

INDUSTRIAL DIVISION Of great significance in 1979, was the decision of the Board of Trustees of CSB to accept the generous offer of the Vocational Guidance Rehabilitation Services (VGRS) to merge the Society's Industrial Division workshops with those of VGRS. The merger became a reality on October 1.

This decision became increasingly apparent as new approaches and services in the field of services to the handicapped were developed. With the availability of additional opportunities for blind persons to enter the competitive labor market; the increase in social security benefits; automation and other factors, there was no longer a sufficient number of blind clients needing workshop employment. In the past few years, the Society's Industrial Division was able to employ only 65 to 70 blind persons in any one year. Furthermore, with inflation, the need to subsidize the workshops continued to increase each year, for the past 10 years.

Board members of both agencies believe the merger is a very positive step forward in the preservation of sheltered work opportunities for all handicapped individuals who can benefit from these services. In addition, it is believed that greater coordination and integration of programming will result from VGRS operating the facility.

Up until the merger, the division continued to provide training for those who would move on to jobs in competitive industry, as well as employment for those who preferred the 'sheltered workshop setting'. Production activities employed 70 blind and multiple-handicapped persons in 1979. With the merger, all of these employees and staff who wished to do so were transferred to the VGRS payroll.

FOOD SERVICES: At the close of 1979, the Food Services Division was operating 35 snack bars with 37 full-time managers and 14 relief operators.

Three new Snack Bars opened during the year: Sears Roebuck Company, (West 110th Street store); the Brook Park Rapid Station and one at the Rockside Square, Building # 1.

Forty-three students were enrolled in The Cleveland Society for the Blind's Food Service Training program, a 12-week intensive training course in snack bar management. An additional 37 persons were enrolled for one and two-week evaluations.

The Society had to temporarily close the snack bar at the Central Police Station as that building is being renovated.

CRAFTS FOR SALE: The Crafts-for-Sale program is designed for visually handicapped individuals as a way for them to use their leisure time in a creative and financially rewarding manner. During 1979, 64 crafts people worked on 165 different items to produce well over 15,000 individual items for sale. These included 16 new persons who received specialized training and became affiliated with the service.

Because of increased efforts in commercial markets, gross sales reached $19,244.00, nearly a 10% increase over 1978. Of this amount, $11,205.00 was returned directly to the crafts people in wages.

The program is deeply indebted to a group of 195 skilled and dedicated volunteers, without whose contributions Crafts-for-Sale could not have succeeded and could not expand.

Summary Of Gifts

MAJOR CONTRIBUTIONS FOR THE YEAR, 1979

How You Can Help

The Cleveland Society for the Blind has been blessed with many friends since its founding in 1906. They have helped in many ways. The generous gifts received from friends are particularly important to the agency. This is the primary source that makes it possible to continue to provide services which are so vital to blind and visually handicapped persons and their families.

These paragraphs are included in this Annual Report as a reminder that the CSB welcomes not only cash gifts but transfers of securities or other property and bequests.

Such gifts carry tax benefits for you or your estate which your attorney or banking consultant can readily explain. These professionals can also help with arrangements for giving to the Cleveland Society for the Blind.

The following is one of the guides that might be helpful for persons wishing to prepare a bequest in behalf of the Society:

'I give, devise and bequeath to The Cleveland Society for the Blind, a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the State of Ohio, having its principal office at 1909 East 101st Street, Cleveland, Ohio 44106 the sum of ----- dollars ($ ) or ----- % of the residue of my estate to be used by said corporation for purposes for which it is incorporated.'
